

Bavarian American Academy Summer Institute, 2007

"Ethnicity and Society in America"

July 25-27, 2007 at Amerika Haus, Munich

In an intense three-days course of studies, three leading scholars in the areas central to the topic of "Ethnicity and Society in America" will explore its historical and intellectual dimensions and discuss recent repercussions in literature, the arts, the humanities and related social sciences. Participants will closely work with BAA distinguished guest faculty in both individual and joint sessions. Each faculty member offers a public lecture and, in addition, a colloquium (based on the topic of the lecture); each colloquium is attended by the whole group and provides ample opportunity for intensive discussion and debate. The participants will present a final paper in a concluding symposium.
